Greenbelt's Great: ... Margaret Hogensen

by Sandra Lange

"The thing that makes a co-op work anywhere is leadership," declares Margaret Hogensen firmly. She has been active in the affairs of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. for more than 16 years. She served as a member of the audit committee and then was elected to the Board of Directors in 1977. She was president of the board for five years.

"Becoming a leader in GHI opens up a whole new world. It's a wonderful opportunity to gain something as well as to give. I am so grateful that the members gave me the opportunity," she exclaims with enthusiasm.

Her attitude toward her own personal growth is repeated in her desire to interest other GHI members in becoming involved in the activities of the co-op. "Members ought to be active," she states with great fervor.

Margaret took her role as a GHI board member very seriously. She spent many, many hours beyond regular board and committee meetings on GHI activities. Even now, though no longer on the board by her own decision not to run again, she is a member of the search committee for a new general manager, the Bylaw Review Committee and the Member and Community Relations Committee.

She is most proud of her role in enhancing the financial affairs of the corporation through a system of reserves which provides enough money for continuous rehab. "We do a great deal less emergency maintenance as a result. It doesn't take long for things to go downhill," she asserts.

Hogensen believes, despite the recent contentious annual membership meeting and election, that most GHI members are "quite satisfied with their maintenance" and other aspects as well. Suspensions can build from a few events. "Some people then made the assumption there are a lot of things wrong when there aren't," she contends, alluding to the recent furor over the refusal by management to make public the salaries of individual GHI employees.

While praising the openness of GHI board meetings, she is at a loss as to how to deal with members attending "who take up too much time," she comments. Having visited co-ops across the country in her role as president of the Eastern Cooperative Housing Corporation and board member of other national co-ops, she notes that "I never met another (co-op) board that allows members to come to meetings." Other co-op board members have asked her, "How do you get anything done?" when members not only come to your board meetings but are allowed to speak as well.

Hogensen relates the story of the trainer who was hired on three different occasions to teach procedures to new GHI board members on conducting meetings. She was asked year after year how to make board meetings shorter so that they did not end at 1 or 2 a.m. Finally, in exasperation, the trainer stated, "You people are intelligent. If you want to make your meet-

Athletics Once Again Top Little League

by Greg Fisanich

Defending city champions, the Athletics, repeated as champs by defeating the National League regular season champions, the Cardinals in a best of three series.

In game one, home runs and good hitting gave the Cards a 1-0 advantage. In game two, the A's tied the series at 1-1 with great hitting, good defense and almost mistake free baseball. Game three saw the A's take the early lead and hold the hard-charging Cards offense for an 11-8 victory.

Special thanks to all departing 12 year olds, all managers, coaches, parents and sponsors, and all others who volunteered their time to the children of this great city.

English Country Manor Site Plan Okayed by City Council

by Diane Oberg

A new condominium apartment and townhouse development could rise in Greenbelt East Next spring. At its July 20 regular meeting, the Greenbelt City Council, on a 4-1 vote, with councilmember Rodney Roberts opposed, recommended that the county approve Foundation Real Estate's site and landscape plans for English Country Manor, as the Greenbrook Manor property would be renamed.

Under the plan, the 17-acre site, located south of Hunting Ridge adjacent to the Beltway, will become home to 252 condominium apartment units and 33 townhouses. The development is planned as a "truly private community" with an electronic gatehouse restricting access to the site. The development will feature two ponds, several fountains and a boxwood garden.

Richard Reid, attorney for the developer, said that the townhouses would sell for approximately $150,000 and the condominiums for $100,000. According to David Tolmie, president of Foundation Real Estate, most of the townhouses will have garages. Roughly 80 garages will be constructed for sale to condominium owners for approximately $6,000. Condominium rules will prohibit use of the garages for storage, Reid said.

One of the most sensitive issues in the plan was the developer's desire to locate the gatehouse on the city right-of-way and to block access to all but residents and their guests.

Director of Planning and Community Development Celia Wilson said that emergency vehicles would be given a card to open the gates, but suspected that fire trucks would go through the gates "without benefit of a key." The gates resemble those used by railroad tracks and toll gates, but the presence of the gatehouse will dress up the appearance of the entrance.

The condominium and townhouse homeowners associations will be responsible for maintaining the right-of-way, under the plan. Nonetheless, councilmembers had some concerns. Roberts objected to the developer's request that the city give up property for a private community.

Councilmembers Edward Putens and Thomas White were concerned that the future condominium and townhouse owners would find maintaining the gatehouse and the right-of-way a burden. Putens, in particular, was concerned that as time

Taken by Surprise . . . Outstanding Citizen, 1992

by Joe Timer

Last September Mike Burchick was focused on recording the opening ceremonies of Greenbelt's Labor Day Festival with a new video-camera when his name was announced as the 20th recipient of Greenbelt's Outstanding Citizen award. Twenty-four family members — including his wife Myrna — then joined him on stage for the awards ceremony.

It was also appropriate, since it was family — especially the activities of our six children — that started my volunteer efforts. At first, it was Boy Scouts, PTA and sports-related activities," stated Burchick. Over the years, the volunteer activities of this 50-year resident of Greenbelt have expanded dramatically.

His concern for others has involved helping poor and needy families, assisting cancer patients and participation in numerous church-related endeavors. His community activities have involved the Greenbelt Federal Credit Union, the Greenbelt Consumer Cooperative, the Lion's Club, the Labor Day Festival, and the 50th Anniversary Committee (the Adopt-A-Tree program).

Greenbelt has many unrecognized volunteers who contribute countless hours of unpublicized service, Burchick added. "That's important to remember when we nominate and recognize Greenbelt's outstanding citizens."

Nominations are due soon!!

Help us identify Greenbelt's Outstanding Citizen for 1993. Complete the nomination form (page 2) and recognize an individual whose volunteer efforts have made Greenbelt a better place to live.

GEAC Meets

The Greenbelt East Advisory Committee (GEAC) will hold its next scheduled meeting on Thursday, August 5, 7:30 p.m. at the Windsor Green Community Center located at 7474 Frankfort Drive. Residents of Greenbelt and Greenbelt East are invited to attend.

Please contact Tim Sechrist at 345-6861 for questions or comments.

Our Policy on Letters

Letters. We want letters. The News Review encourages readers to write letters to the editors. The staff and our readers like to hear what people have to say — particularly if you have something different to say, and haven't said it before.

Be aware, though, that all letters as well as other newspaper copy, are subject to editorial staff review and we do not print every letter that comes across the desk. We also reserve the right to shorten long letters and correct your grammar and spelling, although we do make every effort to try to keep intact the points that you wish to make. Here are a few guidelines for your information:

1. Please have your letter typed and double spaced. All of our copy has to go to the printers typed and we do not have enough volunteers to retype hand written letters.

2. Keep it short. We recommend one typewritten, double spaced page. The amount of space we have available is limited. Long letters risk being cut, delayed or not even printed.

3. Discuss issues, not personalities (unless you are saying thanks or making a commendation). We do not print personal attacks on individuals.

4. Be relevant to Greenbelt. The News Review is neither a national newspaper nor a metropolitan paper. We try to report news and views of special interest to Greenbelters on matters not regularly reported by other papers.

5. Check your facts. While we do not assume responsibility for the accuracy of reader's letters, we do have a responsibility to our readers to keep them accurately informed as best we can.

6. Don't beat a dead horse. We believe in full discussion of an issue, but not the repeated rehashing of it.

7. No political endorsements or discussions of a particular candidate's position. These comments may be printed as paid advertisements.

To repeat we really do like receiving your letters. We hope many of you find the exchange of opinions in the letters column interesting, thought provoking and enjoyable.

Host Families Needed

Share American heritage and cultural traditions with an international high school student. American Intercultural Student Exchange is seeking families who are interested in hosting a foreign exchange student in their homes for the 1993-94 school year. The students, ages 15 through 18, have their own spending money and medical insurance. Host families provide room, board and a loving family environment.

Families may request a student from over 30 countries in Europe, Asia, South America and Australia. All exchange students are in excellent health, are fluent in English, and have met strict academic standards set forth by AISE.

AISE also offers an American Student program available to American high school students ages 15 through 18 who would like to spend a school year, semester or summer abroad.

Call 1-800-SIBLING today for further information.

Clothing Drive Held By Cancer Society

More on Bylaws

(This is the second part of Mat Amberg's letter concerning the draft revisions to the Greenbelt Homes, Inc. bylaws submitted to the GHI Board by the Bylaws Review Committee).

Some other proposed changes stripping rights from members include: the right to debate and act at annual membership meetings on matters not on the agenda (the board sets the agenda usually, and for members to get something on the agenda that is mailed out a sufficient number of them must submit a petition at least 35 days before the meeting, and most members normally don't know when a meeting is to be held far enough in advance to do this); the right of a membership meeting to unseat directors and/or elected committee members for cause; the right of the members at an annual meeting to have the candidates introduced to them so that they can form some impression of people they have to vote on, the right of members to inspect the GHI books as to employees' salaries and other prerequisites which are GHI costs (this is an attempt to undo the partial gains of the last two years), etc.

There are other changes which strengthen the board versus the membership and those which weaken the board versus the appointed manager. The new language makes the manager the operating boss, which he's been in practice, and cuts the ground out from under board members who want to make sure the manager does right.

There are other proposed changes which are inexplicable. The proposed Article XII permits termination of a member's contract for failure to repair and maintain the unit — but says nothing about GHI's failure to repair, and maintain if that occurs — and remember the GHI obligation to repair and maintain could be weakened or eliminated by a board change in the contract.

Another piece of faulty language occurs in the proposal to provide absentee ballots in GHI elections for members who can't vote on the election day "due to extenuating circumstances." My dictionary defines "extenuate" as "to lessen or seem to lessen the seriousness of an offense, guilt, etc., by giving excuses or serving as an excuse (extenuating circumstances)" or to make lean or thin, etc. None of these meanings have anything to do with a member who just can't get to the GHI polling place because of illness or having to be out of town. So why not say what you mean?

(I'm not sure that this is a good amendment, anyway, because it can be used by some to gather votes from people who can't be bothered to think and act for themselves in this important area, or who just give their proxy to get rid of someone at the door who tells them some story. But if you're going to do it, do it right).

This letter hits a few of the high spots. I may have missed some other lusus. I hope that the board goes through the proposals with a fine-toothed comb and some modesty and fairness, and eliminates the bad stuff, and that the membership is very alert and very careful when it gets to vote.

Let no one be put off merely by the shifting around in the bylaws of certain provisions unless in the shifting some real mischief is committed. And let us not reject whatever in the package is good, such as the long-overdue acceptance (Article IV, Section 1) of the equal housing opportunity laws of the U.S. and Maryland.

I await eagerly GHI's acceptance of the labor law, equal employment opportunity laws, and other laws—but even more impressive to me would be GHI obedience of GHI's present bylaws.

Mat Amberg

New Students Should Register Early

The Department of Guidance Services of the Prince Georges County Public Schools, has designated four specific days as formal registration dates for new secondary school students at all middle and high schools.

In order to avoid long lines and delays during the first weeks of school, parents are strongly urged to register new secondary school students on the following dates: Thursday, August 12; Friday, August 13; Monday, August 16; and Tuesday, August 17.

For information about the registration times on those four days, please call the individual school.

Each new student must be accompanied by a parent or guardian and have (1) immunization records, (2) birth certificates, (3) proof of residence, (4) transcript or report cards, and (5) recent standardized test scores.

These buckets are yellow and clearly marked for County recycling. Please call 474-8004 to obtain a smaller bucket.

Tree I.D. Workshop

In an outdoor workshop, children will learn how to identify common trees using simple leaf keys. The workshop, recommended for grades 4, 5, and 6 will be held at 10:30 a.m. on Thursday, August 5. The program begins behind the Arbor House at the National Arboretum.

For more information call (202) 475-4815.

TALKING TRASH

Tracy Vincent,
Recycling Coordinator

The Public Works Department would like to remind residents to place trash out by 7 a.m. on collection days. Refuse should be placed in a trash can and contained in either plastic or paper bags to prevent scattering and make it easy to remove the material. This prevents misunderstandings about what is trash. Loose trash is messy and undesirable. A trash container or bag cannot exceed 50 lbs. Recyclables should also be set out by 7 a.m. to avoid missing the collector. It's a good idea to occasionally clean both your garbage can and yellow recycling container. A filthy container could become infested with the unspeakable (maggots) and become a nuisance to your neighbors and collectors. For more information about trash or recycling collection, call Public Works at 474-8004.

The Lion's Roar

by David A. Ward

On June 5 Barbara Jacobs was installed "King Lion" of the Greenbelt Lions Club. This marks a first for "The Club" to have a woman in the leadership position. King Lion Barbara assumes this position with a record of active participation in Lionism, which is a benchmark. For her work during the 1992-93 year King Lion Barbara received the Stan Hoke award given to the Lion who exemplified the motto "We Serve."

The Lion of the Year award was given to Lion Nancy Ward for her exemplary volunteer work in the worthy activities and projects the Club was involved in during 1992-93. Lion Nancy will serve as secretary of the Greenbelt Lions Club for the upcoming year.

Lion Alice Mayhew, who has also been an active member of the club and dedicated to its purpose, accepted the position of treasurer.

Many projects and activities are on the schedule for the upcoming year. The traditional White Cane Drive, Christmas Pancake Breakfast, Adopt-A-Highway, are all on the agenda. Many other projects will be added as the needs of the community are made known and the volunteer force of the Lions Club is activated to meet those needs.

For those in the community who would enjoy actively participating in Lions work or who might have need for assistance, call Lion Nancy Ward at 441-9082.

Bicycle Committee Meets in Greenbelt

by Bill Clarke

The Maryland Bicycle Advisory Committee's (MBAC) second annual meeting will be held in Greenbelt on Wednesday, August 4. Registration starts with bagels, juice and coffee in the Greenbelt library at 2 p.m. and ends with dinner, tea and fortune cookies in the Beijing of Greenbelt.

The purpose of this meeting is to give the public a chance to participate in committee activities. Anyone interested in public policy issues pertaining to bicycling is urged to attend the dinner meeting or any of the afternoon activities.

The buffet dinner meeting, at the Beijing Restaurant, starts at 6:30 p.m. Delegate Joan Pitkin, one of Greenbelt's representatives in Annapolis, will be the keynote speaker. An open forum after dinner will provide time for asking questions or making statements.

Subcommittee meetings start at 3 p.m. at the library and city meeting rooms. The subcommittees on safety and education, laws and enforcement, trails, economic development, commuting and legislation will meet. The subcommittees include 20 staff members of the Departments of Transportation, Education, Economic Development, Health and Hygiene, Natural Resources, and the State Police.

Special events, at 4:30 p.m., include either a 5-mile bicycle tour to the Greenbelt METRO/MARC station or a walking tour of the Greenbelt Museum and inner pathway system.

The MBAC is appointed by Governor William Donald Shafer to advise him on policy issues concerning bicycling. A bill establishing the committee, which was introduced in 1991 by State Delegate Jim Rosapepe of College Park, passed the Maryland General Assembly that same year.

This second annual meeting is a homecoming of sorts. The bill establishing the committee was written in the Greenbelt Library in January 1991. A group of Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis area bicycle enthusiasts dictated the bill to Delegate Rosapepe's legislative aide. The bill passed the first year it was introduced.

The Greenbelt Aquatic Center has showers and lockers available to bicycle commuters for a small charge.

For additional information, call Dottie DeCarlo, the Maryland Bicycle Affairs assistant, at 1-800-252-8776 or 1-410-333-1145. The local contact is Bill Clarke, 474-7280.

Festival Notes

Little, Junior Miss Greenbelt

Community service is an important aspect of the Little Miss and Junior Miss Pageants according to Cheri Gainer who chairs those programs as part of the annual Labor Day Festival. Girls in both age groups are raising funds this year for the Adopt-a-Tree program and the funds they raise will be used to plant trees in the new Schrom Hills Park. The girls will work with the city staff to plant the trees, and no doubt, watch them grow. Individually the participants will also think about service to the community. Participants in the Little Miss Pageant will be asked to respond to the question, "What Greenbelt Means to Me." Junior Miss participants will be asked to define a community service project for which each will be responsible during the coming year. Projects can range from tutoring youngsters to visiting with seniors from organizing a beautification project to promoting the arts, or any creative, new idea of special interest to the participant.

The pageants also involve many group activities such as pizza parties and photo sessions. The girls will rehearse a production number to perform on the stage during the Festival. This year's theme is the '50s and will be carried out in the dance numbers, decorations and costume. Girls 7 to 9 are eligible for the Little Miss Pageant and those 10 to 13 for the Junior Miss activities. Girls must live or go to school in Greenbelt or have parents who work in the city to be eligible. The girls have begun to prepare for the pageants and participants meet each Monday at 6:30 at the Greenbelt Youth Center. Parents and girls are encouraged to attend to learn more about the Pageant. Weekly meetings have just begun and will continue until Labor Day. Call Cheri Gainer for more information, work 236-5242 or home 317-9943.

Check this column for more information.

Meetings

The Labor Day Festival Committee will meet each Thursday in August to continue to plan the entertainment, carnival, parade and all events and activities at the Festival. Meetings are at 7:30 at the Greenbelt Police Station meeting room and everyone is invited to attend.

Help Flood Victims

Flood victims of the Mississippi River and its tributaries are desperate for clean water and the need is staggering for food, shelter, communications, and transportation.

The local area Lutheran Brotherhood Branch 8047, a non-profit fraternal organization serving the metro Washington area, Prince Georges and Montgomery Counties, has set aside matching funds for this purpose. For each dollar donated, the branch will provide two dollars.

This urgent appeal is being made through the month of August. All donations are accepted, regardless of size—remembering that raindrops fill the barrel. Donations can be mailed to Mr. Lee Hunter, Treasurer, National Capital Branch 8047, 14134 Flint Rock Road, Rockville, Md. 20853. Checks should be made out to "LB National Capital Br 8047" with the notation: "LB Flood 93". Questions can be directed to Dan Bella, Branch President, (301) 949-5317.

Swim Team News

by Christine Maher and Amanda Baldauf

Boy, have we got a lot of catching up to do! In the past three weeks we have swum three meets and won them all. We now have five wins and no losses.

The weather was extremely hot, but Greenbelt swimmers were hotter when, on July 10, we swam against the Temple Hills Swim Club at Greenbelt Aquatics and Fitness Center. The final score was a singeing Temple Hills—202, Greenbelt—319.

Four Greenbelt swimmers, Jenny Drake, Ben Kepler, William Lloyd and Katrina Schwartz, won all of their races.

Other high point contributors were Amanda Baldauf, Alexandre Friere da Silva and Christine Maher with 13 points each. Kate Hilton and John Smid with 12 points, Aruna Inversin and Danielle Leas with 11 points, and Johanna Baker and Fernando Freire da Silva with 19 points.

One team record was set by Christine Maher, who broke her own record in the 11-12 girls' individual medley.

The following week, July 17, we beat Lancaster Neighborhood Swim Team with a final score of Lancaster — 257.5, Greenbelt — 282.5. Even though Amanda Baldauf disqualified in butterfly, the team rallied and won the meet.

Triple winners were Jenny Drake, Aruna Inversin, Christine Maher and Katrina Schwartz. High point winners were Brianne Leas, 13 points; Michelle Stickels, 12; Connor O'Reilly, 11; and Ben Kepler and Reed Wirick with 10 points each.

The awesome Greenbelt swimmers broke eight Lancaster records! Jenny Drake broke the 15-18 girls' backstroke record and Kate Hilton broke two 9-10 girls' records in freestyle and breaststroke. Aruna Inversin smoked the boys' 15-18 breaststroke record, while Brianne Leas bested the 13-14 girls' butterfly record. Michelle Stickels broke two 9-10 girls' records in butterfly and backstroke. And last, but not least, the girls graduated relay team broke the pool record.

Way to go Greenbelt!

On July 24, we came up against the number two team in our division, Forest Pool, Inc. (In case you didn't know, Greenbelt is number one). The final score was Forest Pool—225, Greenbelt—305.

The triple winners were Jenny Drake, Aruna Inversin, Ben Kepler and Katrina Schwartz. Our many high point winners were Brendan Gardes, Kate Hilton, William Lloyd and Christine Maher with 13 points, Johanna Baker, Amanda Baldauf, Alexandre Freire da Silva, Fernando Freire da Silva and Jeanne Kepler with 11 points each and Danielle Leas with ten points.

Two team records were set. One by Christine Maher who broke her own girls' individual medley record and the boys' graduated relay team of Ben Kepler, William Lloyd, Brendan Gardes and Aruna Inversin broke their old team record.

The girls' relay team of Kate Hilton, Christine Maher, Amanda Baldauf and Jenny Drake broke their team and pool records.

The Greenbelt Swim Team is headed for Divisionals at Temple Hills this Saturday, July 31.

Arts Center Hosts Fourth Annual Arts Show & Auction

by Sandy Smith

A weekend for two at the Greenbelt Marriott and the BWI Marriott and a weekend for two at the Holiday Inn Capitol South (near the Smithsonian) are just a few of the door prizes to win at the Art Show and Auction, sponsored by the Greenbelt Arts Center. It will be held on August 4 at the Greenbelt Fire House. The audience will win door prizes, enjoy refreshments, learn about and see a representative collection of current American artists, and have a chance to purchase art at substantially below-gallery prices.

This is the fourth annual show and auction, for which the Heisman Gallery brings a wide selection of oils, watercolors, lithographs, etchings, serigraphs, sculptures, enamels and prints to the auction. The auctioneer and printed catalog describe each piece and provide virtually a current review of the works of the major American artists. Works available include those of Delacroix, Erte, McKnight, Neiman, Picasso, MacWilliams, Tarkey, Wooster-Scott, Wyeth and others.

Funds Targeted for Theater

The Art Show and Auction is the major fund-raiser of the Greenbelt Arts Center. This year's funds are targeted for the renovation of a temporary theater space in the property adjacent to the Post Office in Roosevelt Center. The space requires extensive renovation, for which the Arts Center is seeking both funds and volunteers to ready the facility for a September opening of its fall theater series. Ultimately a permanent performing arts facility is planned as a part of the new Community Center in the old Center School.

For the past several years, the Arts Center has had to utilize space all around the city and beyond to hold its music and drama performances. This has meant scaled-back productions in terms of scenery, special effects and sets because of the nomadic nature and lack of space for sets storage and design. Audiences have also had to search for the performances and make do with seating and surroundings less than optimal. Performers and audiences alike will benefit from adequate, permanent space for rehearsals and productions. Space devoted to performing arts will mean that more demanding productions can be produced and enjoyed.

Theater Plans

With the prospect of a permanent theater for the upcoming season, the Arts Center is setting its program for the next year. It plans to open with "Androcles and the Lion," by Bernard Shaw and directed by Steve Blais. Blais plans a cast of "thousands," for this story of Androcles, who removed a thorn from the lion's paw and later met the lion in an arena in Rome.

The spring production will be "Philadelphia Here I Come," by Brian Friel. This will be directed by Dan Young, who wrote and directed the winning entry in last season's Maryland One Act Play Tournament. The play tells the story of a young man's last night at home in Ireland prior to leaving for a new life in America. Three additional productions, "Rehearsal for Murder," "Jigsaws," and "The Merry Wives of Windsor" are also on the schedule.

Call the Arts Line at 441-8770 for more information and tickets for the Art Show and Auction. Tickets are also available at the door. The Arts Line can also provide more information about the upcoming play series, as well as updates on the theater renovation and volunteers needed.

Bonsai Docent To Offer Help

ings shorter, you can. You just don't want to." Hogensen laughs heartily. But her expression says, "It is funny and, then again, it is not so funny."

"One of the reasons GHI has lasted so long," she states, "is that when there is a problem, we say 'Let's fix it...' But we frequently disagree on what the problem is." She laughs again.

Another reason Hogensen believes that GHI has lasted as a cooperative for more than 40 years is that "management has transformed GHI into a business. We have better management techniques now than in the past. . . . What causes co-ops to fail," she affirmed, "is that they forget they're running a business. You have to take in enough money to pay your expenses."

Hogensen praises the management abilities of Ron Colton, who recently resigned as general manager. "I am very sorry to see him leave. He was doing an awfully good job. (His departure) is a great loss to GHI."

In retrospect, Hogensen chastises the former board for not being more sensitive to the salary issues and how it reflected upon Colton. "It will be a challenge to find a good new manager who is willing to work in this community," she reflects. "The new board needs to work together to make GHI a cohesive whole. They need to respect differences of opinions without acrimony," she counsels.

Hogensen herself has always championed diversity. She prefers "guidelines" to rules. She believes members ought to have the greatest amount of flexibility in the design of additions, sheds and yards. She has been challenged in this belief by those who have implored the board to create uniform design standards in keeping with the historic character of the buildings, and to enforce their own rules. It is a controversy that is almost never ending.

As she bows out of her years of public life, she has few regrets. Her knowledge and experiences have expanded beyond what she could have imagined when she first came to live in GHI in 1972 with her late husband, Ben. She is not as enthusiastic as she once was about getting into the middle of the fray. She looks forward to the years ahead as she devotes more time to her personal interests and much less to GHI's—though, one expects,

City Landmark In New Book

The Greenbelt Center Elementary School building is among a number of historic buildings in Prince Georges County featured in a new book, Landmarks of Prince Georges County. (The Johns Hopkins University Press). The book consists of black and white photographs (by Jack E. Boucher) and explanatory text. The Center School has relief entitled "We the People" appears as the frontispiece of the book, which calls Greenbelt "(o)ne of the county's most significant examples of twentieth-century architecture."

Jack E. Boucher is chief photographer for the Interior Department's Historic American Buildings Survey, the nation's oldest federal preservation program and one long regarded as setting the national standard for architectural documentation. The book is an outgrowth of a unique cooperative project between the Survey and Prince Georges County to document the county's historic resources.

GREENBELT NEWS REVIEW

COUNTRY

passed owners would seek relief from the city. Tolmie assured council that potential purchasers would be given a very detailed budget for the community at the time they first signed a contract. He noted that strict disclosure laws would ensure this. Further, the costs of maintaining the gatehouse is a very small part of the community's budget.

In addition to the right-of-way issue, the developer will also need approval for several variances from county standards, mostly for required distances between buildings and from property lines. If the county grants the necessary approvals, Tolmie plans to start grading in the fall, and construction in the winter, with the first residents moving in by early fall 1994.

Other Actions

Council authorized acceptance of a $77,517 bid for equipment for the exercise facility. This is $7,817 more than the $69,700 budget allocation for equipment. Approximately $7,250 of this overage reflects the purchase of additional equipment to allow service to more customers.

On a motion by Roberts, council directed staff to seek federal funds for a study of three proposed pedestrian overpasses. Two would span Greenbelt Road — at Greenbelt Middle School and at Eleanor Roosevelt. The third would provide safe passage over Kenilworth Avenue in the vicinity of Ivy and Cherrywood.

Council agreed to submit requests to the state legislative delegation for bills to allow municipalities to levy hotel/motel taxes, to give cities a share of revenues from tickets for moving violations and to give Greenbelt planning and zoning authority.

The resignation of David Jastrab from the Crime Prevention Committee was accepted.

JOE'S TIPS OF THE WEEK

Hello again !!!

Does your vehicle seem to go through exhaust components rather quickly because of rotted and rusted pipes and mufflers? Well, some vehicles seem to replace exhaust components every 13-15 months.

The cause is the location of the components. The most vulnerable component is the muffler. Because of the size, most are located to the rear of the vehicle. However, when the muffler is in the last three feet of the exhaust system, it's very cool, producing condensation. This is where corrosion starts and spreads from the inside out

Yes, there is a corrosion factor built into the basic construction of the exhaust system. But exhaust acids accelerate rust and corrosion. Exhaust acids come from incomplete combustion of fuel air mixtures contaminated by anti-freeze or motor oil (which are not supposed to be there).

This is one reason for proper preventive maintenance scheduling and good running engines.

Greenbelt Grab Bag

by Punchin' Judy

Uncle Sylvester and I were strolling around the lake. "Look at all those children playing by the water," he grumbled. "I don't understand how their parents can permit them to get so close to the edge."

"Why what harm can they come to? I hardly think the ducks will attack them," I said.

"What harm? Think of all those piranhas just waiting to snatch a tender meal!"

"There aren't any piranhas in Greenbelt Lake," I told him. "Where did you get such an idea?"

"I read it in a newspaper, so it must be true," he insisted.

"Trusting soul, aren't you? However, I did read a story about those toothy fish, only they were in Bowie, not Greenbelt."

"Huh," he huffed. "That's no distance. They could get here in no time."

"By car, by Helicopter, by flying carpet? How?" I questioned.

"Don't get cheeky," he admonished. "A bird could pick one up and then drop it here."

"If it didn't get its toes nipped. Have you seen any toeless birds lately?"

He ignored this. "There might be electric eels also," he suggested. "Look, there's one right there!"

"I think it's a licorice stick. Someone must have dropped it."

Let's stop a minute and watch those goldfish."

"Fish taste good cooked, but what's the point of watching them?" he asked.

"People love to look at fish. Why, there's a TV channel in South Carolina that shows nothing but an aquarium all day long," I informed him.

"That is ridiculous! I suppose you read that in a newspaper. How can you be so gullible!"

And at that very moment a gull presented me with a token of its esteem. Uncle Sylvester hasn't stopped laughing yet.

Shakespeare's Plays Given in the Parks

The Merry Wives of Windsor is this year's rollicking production by the traveling outdoor theatre from the University of Maryland Baltimore County. The five performances series opens at Allen Pond Park in Bowie on Tuesday, August 3. On Thursday and Friday, August 5 and 6 at Montpelier Mansion for a two night stand.
